TO-DAY

Judge Cochran Will Decide Whether or Not Federal Court Takes Jurisdiction in Caleb Powers Case.

United States Judge A. M. J. Cochran, of the Eastern district of Kentucky, notified the Attorneys through the Clerk of the Federal Court at Covington last Monday that the opinion would be handed down in the Caleb Powers case at 10:30 o'clock on Friday July 7, at Maysville. This opinion will decide whether or not the case shall be transferred to Federal Jurisdiction from the Scott Circuit Court.

His many friends here as well as elsewhere are waiting with eager desire to know just what that opinion will be, feeling that should the contention of the defendant be upheld by the Court, his troubles will speedily be ended and he again restored to his friends of former days.

There is no doubt of his innocence, then why should he not be given his liberty again.

RED MEN

Gave Most Delightful Pic-Nic and Everybody Delighted and Entertained.

The 4th Proved a Day of Sunshine and Pleasure to All.

Big Parade in Indian Uniform Proved A Very Attractive Feature.

The Red Men's Cornet Band of this City Furnished Splendid Music For the Occasion.

By the time the sun had peeped above the hills surrounding our little city Tuesday morning, every Red Man was astir, and hustling to make ready for the Big Day that was before them, everyone determined to make the day a successful one in spite of the many obstacles that had appeared to block the way.

The first of the series of troubles which the Red Men encountered in giving their picnic was the Board of Health, in refusing to permit them to hold their picnic on the Fair Grounds, on account of the small-pox scare, and threatened to call it off altogether, but by persuasion and perseverance, finally secured permission to use Judge S. B. Dishman's woodland, which he generously permitted to be used for the occasion.

Next followed the disappointment in securing speakers who had previously consented to be present, and at the last moment it became necessary to make other arrangements in that respect. But this was not all. The Red Men's Band, that was to furnish the music, after practicing for the occasion, was disappointed by their leader, W. F. Baker being called away the day before and not being present, and Wm. "Patsy" McDaniel the Tuba player absent, while Prof. W. M. Baker, the instructor was ill and not able to fill his place, it looked discouraging, but the determination to not be outdone prevailed and hasty arrangements were made and Mr. Chas. Walker, of Middlesborough, was secured to lead the Band and we had plenty of splendid music anyway, as well as good speaking.

Promptly at 9:30 o'clock, the line of parade was formed at the Lodge room, and headed by the Band, marched to the ground with a large representative delegation from Pineville, Fourmile, and Artemus, joining in the parade. There must have been more than one hundred persons all in full uniform.

After arriving at the grounds, and listening to some selections of music, Rev. John T. Stamper was introduced as the first orator of the day and he delivered a splendid address, after which an adjournment was given for dinner and hand-shaking.

After dinner, the Red Men, mounted on horseback, started on the war path in full uniform, and after making a dash through the grounds, came out and dashed through the principle streets of the town, then back to the grounds again where a pale face was sighted, trespassing on the hunting grounds. A company of warriors were immediately sent out to capture him and bring him into the camp of the Tribe. After a long and exciting chase through the grounds, he was finally captured and as a prisoner was lead to camp and left in charge of a few trusty braves while a council was held among the Chiefs where it was decided that the prisoner should be burned at the stake. This having been agreed upon, the captive was taken from the tepee and tied to the stake and the torch applied to the fagots and while the flames leaped, the warriors danced around the fire, carrying out the execution in a realistic manner. This was followed by a real war dance which attracted the attention of every person on the grounds.

More music followed, after which Judge McDonald was introduced and he gave a splendid address.

The remainder of the day was spent in chatting with friends and mingling with them on the grounds, watching the base ball and enjoying the abundant refreshments that were on the grounds in such abundant quantities and served so nicely by the men in charge of the different stands.

The crowd, while not so large as we had hoped to see, was a most creditable one to any community, and during the entire day there was not a person seen on or about the grounds who appeared to have even smelled intoxicating drinks of any kind. Not a loud or harsh word was heard, and everybody was in the best of humor.

There were a number of the Daughters of Pocahontas from Fourmile present and helped to swell the number and besides making a good appearance, have aroused considerable interest in establishing a Camp here.

While the occasion was not as great a financial success as was hoped for, yet all feel glad that through the Red Men, the citizens of Barbourville and Knox county were permitted to enjoy the glorious Fourth as the guests of Tchopitoulas Trib, No. 111, Improved Order of Red Men, and have a day of real pleasure and amusement.

DELIGHTFUL

Entertainment given by the Ladies of the Maccabees at Institute Chapel Friday Night.

The Ladies of the Maccabees of this city presented Ilda Ward or "The Poor Relation" to a well-filled house last Friday night and the affair was in every way a decided success.

Mrs. J. R. Tuggle played the part of Mrs. Golding and Mrs. A. W. Hopper played Alma Golding, the eldest daughter, while Miss Mayo Tinsley acted Jessie Golding, the younger daughter. All played their parts well.

Mrs. G. W. Tye played the part of Ilda Ward, the poor relation, who came to visit the Golding's. She did well and made a good character.

Mr. W. F. Amis represented an uncle, Joe Goodman, and Master George Miller represented his little son Jack. They were both good in their parts.

T. D. Tinsley represented Hugh Raymond, a rich young man whom Alma Golding was interested in and did not want her poor cousin, Ilda, to meet, but he met her and became infatuated with her in spite of all her planning.

Rittie Malone, the Irish house maid, was played by Mrs. D. H. Williams and was the best feature of the play. She was so real and kept the audience in an uproar of laughter all the time she was on the stage with her Irish wit and quaint remarks.

The play was given in six acts but they were all short and interesting and the time seemed short.

The entertainment was given in the interest of the Hive of this city and we are informed that they realized a nice little sum, taking in at the door $25. besides the comps. and reserved seat tickets that were given out.

We congratulate the Ladies in this bit of enterprise and are sincerely glad that they made it so successful.

The Red Men's Band played an opening for them after which music for the remainder of the evening was furnished by Mrs. G. A. Lock at the piano and W. M. Baker leading on a violin and W. F. Baker with his cornet.

Everyone expressed themselves as being highly pleased with the evening's entertainment and trust this will not be the last one we will have the pleasure of witnessing here. We have splendid talent and such innocent amusements as this should be encouraged by liberal patronage.

Secret wedding

Soon Discovered.

What was intended by the contracting parties to be a little romance was discovered by the relatives and the facts made public before the affair was over.

Mr. L. S. Foley, of Williamsburg, came up to spend the Fourth and while here it was decided between himself and Miss Blanche Tuggle, daughter of Mrs. S. D. Tuggle, to launch upon the matrimonial sea. Securing the necessary license they repaired to the home of Judge J. S. Miller who soon pronounced the ceremony that united them for life.

Mr. Foley left that same night for Williamsburg where he is erecting a new residence preparatory to taking his bride, and it was because of the fact that this work was not completed that the wedding was intended to be kept secret for the present.

The news of the wedding soon spread and the friends of the bride have been showering congratulations upon her as the groom is away and not present to receive his share of them.

Mr. Foley is Deputy Clerk of the Whitley county court and is a popular young man, while the bride is a pretty and attractive young lady of our town. The best wishes of their many friends here follow them.

NEW COLLECTOR

Judge Cooper Sworn in as Successor to Judge Denton.

Many Changes in Deputies in Eighth District.

M. G. HIGNITE LANDS A PLUM

Judge J. S. Cooper of Pulaski county was inducted into the office of Revenue Collector of this Eighth District last Saturday July 1st, to succeed Judge James Denton who held the office for the past four and one half years, and his record as a man and as a Collector is equal to the best.

Many sweeping changes were made in the service and are largely due to the severe political contests that have been in this district during the past two years.

One of our townsmen to be benefitted by the change is M. G. Hignite, Supt. of schools of this county who has been appointed Stamp Deputy of Anderson county and will be located at Lawrenceburg. This appointment carries with it a salary of $1500. per year.

We congratulate Mr. Hignite upon securing so lucrative a position.

The deputyship of the fifth division made up of the counties of Bell, Clay, Harlan, Knox, Leslie and Whitley, goes to James Ellison the Sheriff of Whitley county.

In turning over the office to Judge Cooper, Judge Denton accounted for and transferred all property belonging to the Government, of which the Collector is for his term of office custodian, including all the whiskey and brandy in the various warehouses, amounting in the aggregate 18,820,829 and 8-10 gallons, and representing a property value for the Government in future taxes of $20,703,912.78. This immense interest is distributed over the district and is stored in ugly-looking warehouses found in the different counties, but more largely in Anderson, Jessamine, Mercer and Letcher counties of the "Blue Grass." Other property of the Government necessary to the collection of this vast revenue is the stamp books, weighing beams, gaugers and weighers' outfits' record books, locks, seals bonds of distillers, stationery desks in the office at Danville and in the offices of the field deputies located at different points over the district.
